Today's fast-paced business environment demands that enterprises identify business performance insights and optimize decisions anywhere, anytime – or risk getting left behind. Oracle EPM Mobile App enables broader participation and unlocks productivity gains and business value across the entire enterprise. Oracle EPM Mobile App works with the industry-leading Oracle Enterprise Performance Management (EPM) System and is available on iOS and Android mobile devices.

Accelerate Approval Cycles

Location is no longer a constraint to the reduction of cycle times from EPM processes. Executives and managers who are key players in the review and approval process for EPM activities like planning and financial close are often travelling or just not at their desks when their input is required. The delays that result can put pressure on other activities within the overall process that lead to delays and errors.

With mobile access to reviews and approvals these can be actioned immediately and these delays can be almost entirely eliminated helping to accelerate EPM processes.

Improved Decision Making

Process delay also impacts on the quality of decision that are made. During the delay circumstances can change either deteriorating or improving and without up-to-date information the decision made could make the situation worst. Oracle EPM Mobile App provides current information and enables managers and executive to take timely action.

Consistent User Experience

By leveraging Oracle Application Development Framework (ADF) mobile technology Oracle EPM Mobile App offers a consistent user experience across a number of Oracle EPM applications and with a wide range of other Oracle mobile products.
